Glossary

This glossary is extracted from New Zealand equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards. References are by Standard or Interpretation and paragraph number.

The glossary also includes extracts from the New Zealand Equivalent to the IASB Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting (2010). References to the Framework are preceded by CF.

References set out below in (brackets) indicate minor variations in wording.

12-month expected credit losses	The portion of lifetime expected credit losses that represent the NZ IFRS 9.A expected credit losses that result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date.
90-day past due asset	A financial asset where the counterparty has failed to operate within NZ IFRS 7.E23 contractual payments terms for at least 90 days and which is not a restructured asset, other individually impaired asset, or a financial asset acquired through the enforcement of security.
accounting policies	The specific principles, bases, conventions, rules and practices NZ IAS 8.5 applied by an entity in preparing and presenting financial statements.
accounting profit	Profit or loss for a period before deducting tax expense. NZ IAS 12.5
acquiree	The business or businesses that the acquirer obtains control of in a NZ IFRS 3.A business combination.
acquirer	The entity that obtains control of the acquiree. NZ IFRS 3.A acquisition date	The date on which the acquirer obtains control of the acquiree. NZ IFRS 3.A active market	A market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place NZ IFRS 13.A with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis actuarial gains and losses	The changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation NZ IAS 19.8 resulting from: (a) experience adjustments (the effects of differences between the previous actuarial assumptions and what has actually occurred); and (b) the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions.
actuarial present value of promised retirement benefits	The present value of the expected payments by a retirement benefit NZ IAS 26.8 plan to existing and past employees, attributable to the service already rendered.
agricultural activity	The management by an entity of the biological transformation and NZ IAS 41.5 harvest of biological assets for sale or for conversion into agricultural produce or into additional biological assets.
agricultural produce	The harvested product of the entity's biological assets. NZ IAS 41.5
amortisation (depreciation)¹	The systematic allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over NZ IAS 36.6 its useful life. NZ IAS 38.8
amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability	The amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is NZ IFRS 9.A measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus or minus the cumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount and, for financial assets, adjusted for any loss allowance.
antidilution	An increase in earnings per share or a reduction in loss per share NZ IAS 33.5 resulting from the assumption that convertible instruments are converted, that options or warrants are exercised, or that ordinary shares are issued upon the satisfaction of specified conditions.

asset	A resource: (a) controlled by an entity as a result of past events; and (b) from which future economic benefits are expected to flow to the entity.	NZ IAS 38.8 (CF.4.4(a)) asset ceiling	The present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.	NZ IAS 19.8
assets held by a long-term employee benefit fund	Assets (other than non-transferable financial instruments issued by the reporting entity) that: (a) are held by an entity (a fund) that is legally separate from the reporting entity and exists solely to pay or fund employee benefits; and (b) are available to be used only to pay or fund employee benefits, are not available to the reporting entity's own creditors (even in bankruptcy), and cannot be returned to the reporting entity, unless either: (i) the remaining assets of the fund are sufficient to meet all the related employee benefit obligations of the plan or the reporting entity; or (ii) the assets are returned to the reporting entity to reimburse it for employee benefits already paid.	NZ IAS 19.8
associate	An entity, over which the investor has significant influence.	NZ IAS 28.3
attachment date	For a direct insurer, the date as from which the insurer accepts risk from the insured under an insurance contract or endorsement or, for a reinsurer, the date from which the reinsurer accepts risk from the direct insurer or another reinsurer under a reinsurance arrangement.	NZ IFRS 4.D
bearer plant	A living plant that: (a) is used in the production or supply of agricultural produce; (b) is expected to bear produce for more than one period; and (c) has a remote likelihood of being sold as agricultural produce, except for incidental scrap sales.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 41.5
biological asset	A living animal or plant.	NZ IAS 41.5
biological transformation	The processes of growth, degeneration, production, and procreation that cause qualitative or quantitative changes in a biological asset.	NZ IAS 41.5
borrowing costs	Interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.	NZ IAS 23.5
business	An integrated set of activities and assets that is capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return in the form of dividends, lower costs or other economic benefits directly to investors or other owners, members or participants.	NZ IFRS 3.A business combination	A transaction or other event in which an acquirer obtains control of one or more businesses. Transactions sometimes referred to as 'true mergers' or 'mergers of equals' are also business combinations as that term is used in NZ IFRS 3.	NZ IFRS 3.A
carrying amount	The amount at which an asset is recognised after deducting any accumulated depreciation (amortisation) and accumulated impairment losses thereon.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 36.6 NZ IAS 38.8
carrying amount	The amount at which an asset is recognised in the statement of financial position.	NZ IAS 40.5 NZ IAS 41.8
cash	Cash on hand and demand deposits.	NZ IAS 7.6
cash equivalents	Short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.	NZ IAS 7.6
cash flows	Inflows and outflows of cash and cash equivalents.	NZ IAS 7.6

cash-generating unit	The smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.	NZ IAS 36.6 NZ IFRS 5.A
cash-settled share-based payment transaction	A share-based payment transaction in which the entity acquires goods or services by incurring a liability to transfer cash or other assets to the supplier of those goods or services for amounts that are based on the price (or value) of equity instruments (including shares or share options) of the entity or another group entity.	NZ IFRS 2.A
cedant	The policyholder under a reinsurance contract.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
change in accounting estimate	An adjustment of the carrying amount of an asset or a liability, or the amount of the periodic consumption of an asset, that results from the assessment of the present status of, and expected future benefits and obligations associated with, assets and liabilities. Changes in accounting estimates result from new information or new developments and, accordingly, are not corrections of errors.	NZ IAS 8.5
claim	A demand by any party external to the entity for payment by the insurer on account of an alleged loss resulting from an insured event or events, that have occurred, alleged to be covered by insurance.	NZ IFRS 4.D
claims expense	The charge to profit or loss for the reporting period and represents the sum of claims settled and claims management expenses relating to claims incurred in the period and the movement in the gross outstanding claims liability in the period.	NZ IFRS 4.D
claims incurred	Claims that have occurred prior to the reporting date; the claims could be reported or unreported at the reporting date.	NZ IFRS 4.D
close members of the family of a person	Those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity, and include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) that person's children and spouse or domestic partner; (b) children of that person's spouse or domestic partner; and (c) dependants of that person or that person's spouse or domestic partner. 	NZ IAS 24.9
closing rate	The spot exchange rate at the end of the reporting period.	NZ IAS 21.8
commencement of the lease term	The date from which the lessee is entitled to exercise its right to use the leased asset. It is the date of initial recognition of the lease (ie the recognition of the assets, liabilities, income or expenses resulting from the lease, as appropriate).	NZ IAS 17.4

compensation	Includes all employee benefits (as defined in NZ IAS 19) including NZ IAS 24.9 employee benefits to which NZ IFRS 2 applies. Employee benefits are all forms of consideration paid, payable or provided by the entity, or on behalf of the entity, in exchange for services rendered to the entity. It also includes such consideration paid on behalf of a parent of the entity in respect of the entity. Compensation includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) short-term employee benefits, such as wages, salaries and social security contributions, paid annual leave and paid sick leave, profit-sharing and bonuses (if payable within twelve months of the end of the period) and non-monetary benefits (such as medical care, housing, cars and free or subsidised goods or services) for current employees;(b) post-employment benefits such as pensions, other retirement benefits, post-employment life insurance and post-employment medical care;(c) other long-term employee benefits, including long-service leave or sabbatical leave, jubilee or other long-service benefits, long-term disability benefits and, if they are not payable wholly within twelve months after the end of the period, profit-sharing, bonuses and deferred compensation;(d) termination benefits; and(e) share-based payment.
component of an entity	Operations and cash flows that can be clearly distinguished, NZ IFRS 5.A operationally and for financial reporting purposes, from the rest of the entity. consolidated financial statements	The financial statements of a group in which assets, liabilities, equity, NZ IAS 27.4 income, expenses and cash flows of the parent and its subsidiaries are NZ IAS 28.3 presented as those of a single economic entity. NZ IFRS 10.A constructive obligation	An obligation that derives from an entity's actions where: NZ IAS 37.10 <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) by an established pattern of past practice, published policies or a sufficiently specific current statement, the entity has indicated to other parties that it will accept certain responsibilities; and(b) as a result, the entity has created a valid expectation on the part of those other parties that it will discharge those responsibilities.
contingent asset	A possible asset that arises from past events and whose existence will NZ IAS 37.10 be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity. contingent consideration	Usually, an obligation of the acquirer to transfer additional assets or NZ IFRS 3.A equity interests to the former owners of an acquiree as part of the exchange for control of the acquiree if specified future events occur or conditions are met. However, contingent consideration also may give the acquirer the right to the return of previously transferred consideration if specified conditions are met. contingent liability	Is: NZ IAS 37.10 <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity; or(b) a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognised because:<ul style="list-style-type: none">(i) it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; or(ii) the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.

contingent rent	That portion of the lease payments that is not fixed in amount but is NZ IAS 17.4 based on the future amount of a factor that changes other than with the passage of time (eg percentage of future sales, amount of future use, future price indices, future market rates of interest).
contingent share agreement	An agreement to issue shares that is dependent on the satisfaction of NZ IAS 33.5 specified conditions.
contingently issuable ordinary shares	Ordinary shares issuable for little or no cash or other consideration NZ IAS 33.5 upon the satisfaction of specified conditions in a contingent share agreement.
contract	An agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable NZ IFRS 15.A rights and obligations.
contract asset	An entity's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services NZ IFRS 15.A that the entity has transferred to a customer when that right is (NZ IFRS 9.A) conditioned on something other than the passage of time (for example, the entity's future performance).
contract liability	An entity's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for NZ IFRS 15.A which the entity has received consideration (or the amount is due) from the customer.
control of an investee	An investor controls an investee when the investor is exposed, or has NZ IFRS 10.A rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee.
corporate assets	Assets other than goodwill that contribute to the future cash flows of NZ IAS 36.6 both the cash-generating unit under review and other cash-generating units.
cost	The amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of other NZ IAS 16.6 consideration given to acquire an asset at the time of its acquisition or NZ IAS 38.8 construction, or, when applicable, the amount attributed to that asset NZ IAS 40.5 when initially recognised in accordance with the specific requirements of other New Zealand equivalents to IFRSs, eg NZ IFRS 2 Share-based Payment .
cost approach	A valuation technique that reflects the amount that would be required NZ IFRS 13.A currently to replace the service capacity of an asset (often referred to as current replacement cost).
costs of disposal	Incremental costs directly attributable to the disposal of an asset, NZ IAS 36.6 excluding finance costs and income tax expense.
costs to sell	The incremental costs directly attributable to the disposal of an asset NZ IFRS 5.A (or disposal group), excluding finance costs and income tax expense. NZ IAS 41.5
credit-adjusted effective interest rate	The rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or NZ IFRS 9.A receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the amortised cost of a financial asset that is a purchased or originated credit-impaired financial asset. When calculating the credit-adjusted effective interest rate, an entity shall estimate the expected cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial asset (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) and expected credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate (see paragraphs B5.4.1–B5.4.3), transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar financial instruments can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the cash flows or the remaining life of a financial instrument (or group of financial instruments), the entity shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual term of the financial instrument (or group of financial instruments).

credit-impaired financial asset	A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired include observable data about the following events: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;(b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;(c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;(d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;(e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties; or(f) the purchase or origination of a financial asset at a deep discount that reflects the incurred credit losses. It may not be possible to identify a single discrete event—instead, the combined effect of several events may have caused financial assets to become credit-impaired.	NZ IFRS 9.A credit exposures to an individual counterparty or a group of closely related counterparties	The maximum loss amount that could be incurred under all contracts with that counterparty or group of closely related counterparties in the event of those counterparties failing to discharge their obligations.	NZ IFRS 7.E23 credit loss	The difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (ie all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate (or credit-adjusted effective interest rate for purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets). An entity shall estimate cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) through the expected life of that financial instrument. The cash flows that are considered shall include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms. There is a presumption that the expected life of a financial instrument can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the expected life of a financial instrument, the entity shall use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.	NZ IFRS 9.A credit risk	The risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.	NZ IFRS 7.A credit risk rating grades	Rating of credit risk based on the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument.	NZ IFRS 7.A
currency risk	The risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.	NZ IFRS 7.A
current asset	An entity shall classify an asset as current when: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) it expects to realise the asset, or intends to sell or consume it in its normal operating cycle;(b) it holds the asset primarily for the purpose of trading;(c) it expects to realise the asset within twelve months after the reporting period; or(d) the asset is cash or a cash equivalent (as defined in NZ IAS 7) unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. An entity shall classify all other assets as non-current.	NZ IAS 1.66

current service cost	The increase in the present value of the defined benefit obligation NZ IAS 19.8 resulting from employee service in the current period.
current service cost	The increase in the present value of the defined benefit obligation NZ IAS 19.7 resulting from employee service in the current period.
current tax	The amount of income taxes payable (recoverable) in respect of the NZ IAS 12.5 taxable profit (tax loss) for a period.
customer	A party that has contracted with an entity to obtain goods or services NZ IFRS 15.A that are an output of the entity's ordinary activities in exchange for consideration.
date of transition to NZ IFRS	The beginning of the earliest period for which an entity presents full NZ IFRS 1.A comparative information under NZ IFRS in its first NZ IFRS financial statements.
decision maker	An entity with decision-making rights that is either a principal or an NZ IFRS 10.A agent for other parties.
deductible temporary differences	Temporary differences between the carrying amount of an asset or NZ IAS 12.5 liability in the statement of financial position and its tax base that will result in amounts that are deductible in determining taxable profit (tax loss) of future periods when the carrying amount of the asset or liability is recovered or settled.
deemed cost	An amount used as a surrogate for cost or depreciated cost at a given NZ IFRS 1.A date. Subsequent depreciation or amortisation assumes that the entity had initially recognised the asset or liability at the given date and that its cost was equal to the deemed cost.
deferred tax assets	The amounts of income taxes recoverable in future periods in respect NZ IAS 12.5 of: (a) deductible temporary differences; (b) the carryforward of unused tax losses; and (c) the carryforward of unused tax credits.
deferred tax liabilities	The amounts of income taxes payable in future periods in respect of NZ IAS 12.5 taxable temporary differences.
deficit or surplus (of defined benefit liability (asset))	The deficit or surplus is: NZ IAS 19.8 (a) the present value of the defined benefit obligation less (b) the fair value of plan assets (if any).
defined benefit plans	Post-employment benefit plans other than defined contribution plans. NZ IAS 19.8
defined benefit plans	Retirement benefit plans under which amounts to be paid as retirement NZ IAS 26.8 benefits are determined by reference to a formula usually based on employees' earnings and/or years of service.
defined contribution plans	Post-employment benefit plans under which an entity pays fixed NZ IAS 19.8 contributions into a separate entity (a fund) and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods.
defined contribution plans	Retirement benefit plans under which amounts to be paid as NZ IAS 26.8 retirement benefits are determined by contributions to a fund together with investment earnings thereon.
deposit component	A contractual component that is not accounted for as a derivative NZ IFRS 4.A under NZ IFRS 9 and would be within the scope of NZ IFRS 9 if it NZ IFRS 4.C were a separate instrument. NZ IFRS 4.D
deposit premium	The premium charged by the insurer at the inception of a contract NZ IFRS 4.D under which the final premium depends on conditions prevailing over the contract period and so is not determined until the expiry of that period.

depreciable amount	The cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost (in the financial statements), less its residual value.	NZ IAS 16.6 (NZ IAS 36.6) (NZ IAS 38.8)
depreciation (amortisation)²	The systematic allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over its useful life.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 36.6
derecognition	The removal of a previously recognised financial asset or financial liability from an entity's statement of financial position.	NZ IFRS 9.A
derivative	A financial instrument or other contract within the scope of NZ IFRS 9 (see paragraph 2.1 of NZ IFRS 9) with all three of the following characteristics: (a) its value changes in response to the change in a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other variable, provided in the case of a non-financial variable that the variable is not specific to a party to the contract (sometimes called the 'underlying'). (b) it requires no initial net investment or an initial net investment that is smaller than would be required for other types of contracts that would be expected to have a similar response to changes in market factors. (c) it is settled at a future date.	NZ IFRS 9.A development	The application of research findings or other knowledge to a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved materials, devices, products, processes, systems or services before the start of commercial production or use.	NZ IAS 38.8
dilution	A reduction in earnings per share or an increase in loss per share resulting from the assumption that convertible instruments are converted, that options or warrants are exercised, or that ordinary shares are issued upon the satisfaction of specified conditions.	NZ IAS 33.5
direct insurance contract	An insurance contract that is not a reinsurance contract.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
discontinued operation	A component of an entity that either has been disposed of or is classified as held for sale and: (a) represents a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations, (b) is part of a single co-ordinated plan to dispose of a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations or (c) is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale.	NZ IFRS 5.A
discretionary participation feature	A contractual right to receive, as a supplement to guaranteed benefits, additional benefits: (a) that are likely to be a significant portion of the total contractual benefits; (b) whose amount or timing is contractually at the discretion of the issuer; and (c) that are contractually based on: (i) the performance of a specified pool of contracts or a specified type of contract; (ii) realised and/or unrealised investment returns on a specified pool of assets held by the issuer; or (iii) the profit or loss of the company, fund or other entity that issues the contract.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C

² In the case of an intangible asset, the term 'amortisation' is generally used instead of 'depreciation'. The two terms have the same meaning.

disposal group	A group of assets to be disposed of, by sale or otherwise, together as a group in a single transaction, and liabilities directly associated with those assets that will be transferred in the transaction. The group includes goodwill acquired in a business combination if the group is a cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs 80–87 of NZ IAS 36 or if it is an operation within such a cash-generating unit.	NZ IFRS 5.A
dividends	Distributions of profits to holders of equity instruments in proportion to their holdings of a particular class of capital.	NZ IFRS 9.A
economic life	Either: (a) the period over which an asset is expected to be economically usable by one or more users; or (b) the number of production or similar units expected to be obtained from the asset by one or more users.	NZ IAS 17.4
effective interest method	The method that is used in the calculation of the amortised cost of a financial asset or a financial liability and in the allocation and recognition of the interest revenue or interest expense in profit or loss over the relevant period.	NZ IFRS 9.A
effective interest rate	The rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, an entity shall estimate the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but shall not consider the expected credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate (see paragraphs B5.4.1–B5.4.3), transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar financial instruments can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the cash flows or the expected life of a financial instrument (or group of financial instruments), the entity shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual term of the financial instrument (or group of financial instruments).	NZ IFRS 9.A
employee benefits	All forms of consideration given by an entity in exchange for service rendered by employees or for the termination of employment.	NZ IAS 19.8
employees and others providing similar services	Individuals who render personal services to the entity and either: (a) the individuals are regarded as employees for legal or tax purposes, (b) the individuals work for the entity under its direction in the same way as individuals who are regarded as employees for legal or tax purposes, or (c) the services rendered are similar to those rendered by employees. For example, the term encompasses all management personnel, ie those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the entity, including non-executive directors.	NZ IFRS 2.A
entity-specific value	The present value of the cash flows an entity expects to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life or expects to incur when settling a liability.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 38.8
entry price	The price paid to acquire an asset or received to assume a liability in an exchange transaction.	NZ IFRS 13.A equity instrument	A contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities.	NZ IAS 32.11 NZ IFRS 2.A
equity instrument granted	The right (conditional or unconditional) to an equity instrument of the entity conferred by the entity on another party, under a share-based payment arrangement.	NZ IFRS 2.A

equity interests	In NZ IFRS 3, is used broadly to mean ownership interests of NZ IFRS 3.A investor-owned entities and owner, member or participant interests of mutual entities.
equity method	A method of accounting whereby the investment is initially NZ IAS 28.3 recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter for the post-acquisition change in the investor's share of the investee's net assets. The investor's profit or loss includes its share of the investee's profit or loss and the investor's other comprehensive income includes its share of the investee's other comprehensive income.
equity-settled share-based payment transaction	A share-based payment transaction in which the entity: NZ IFRS 2.A (a) receives goods or services as consideration for its own equity instruments (including shares or share options); or (b) receives goods or services but has no obligation to settle the transactions with the supplier.
events after the reporting period	Those events, favourable and unfavourable, that occur between the NZ IAS 10.3 end of the reporting period and the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue. Two types of events can be identified: (a) those that provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events after the reporting period); and (b) those that are indicative of conditions that arose after the reporting period (non-adjusting events after the reporting period).
exchange difference	The difference resulting from translating a given number of units of NZ IAS 21.8 one currency into another currency at different exchange rates.
exchange rate	The ratio of exchange for two currencies. NZ IAS 21.8
exit price	The price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a NZ IFRS 13.A liability.
expected cash flows	The probability-weighted average (ie mean of the distribution) of NZ IFRS 13.A possible future cash flows.
expected credit losses	The weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of a NZ IFRS 9.A default occurring as the weights.
experience adjustments	The effects of differences between previous actuarial assumptions and NZ IAS 19.8 what has actually occurred.
exploration and evaluation assets	Exploration and evaluation expenditures recognised as assets in NZ IFRS 6.A accordance with the entity's accounting policy.
exploration and evaluation expenditures	Expenditures incurred by an entity in connection with the exploration NZ IFRS 6.A for and evaluation of mineral resources before the technical feasibility and commercial viability of extracting a mineral resource are demonstrable.
exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources	The search for mineral resources, including minerals, oil, natural gas NZ IFRS 6.A and similar non-regenerative resources after the entity has obtained legal rights to explore in a specific area, as well as the determination of the technical feasibility and commercial viability of extracting the mineral resource.

fair value	The price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.	NZ IAS 2.6 (NZ IAS 16.6) NZ IAS 17.4 (NZ IAS 19.8) (NZ IAS 20.3) NZ IAS 21.8 NZ IAS 32.11 (NZ IAS 36.6) (NZ IAS 38.8) (NZ IAS 40.5) NZ IAS 41.8 NZ IFRS 1.A NZ IFRS 3.A NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D NZ IFRS 5.A NZ IFRS 9.A NZ IFRS 13.A fair value	The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, a liability settled, or an equity instrument granted could be exchanged, between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm's length transaction.	NZ IFRS 2.A fair value less costs to sell	The amount obtainable from the sale of an asset or cash-generating unit in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the costs of disposal.	NZ IAS 36.6
finance lease	A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset. Title may or may not eventually be transferred.	NZ IAS 17.4
financial asset	Any asset that is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) cash; (b) an equity instrument of another entity; (c) a contractual right: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) to receive cash or another financial asset from another entity; or (ii) to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially favourable to the entity; or (d) a contract that will or may be settled in the entity's own equity instruments and is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) a non-derivative for which the entity is or may be obliged to receive a variable number of the entity's own equity instruments; or (ii) a derivative that will or may be settled other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the entity's own equity instruments. For this purpose the entity's own equity instruments do not include puttable financial instruments classified as equity instruments in accordance with paragraphs 16A and 16B of NZ IAS 32, instruments that impose on the entity an obligation to deliver to another party a pro rata share of the net assets of the entity only on liquidation and are classified as equity instruments in accordance with paragraphs 16C and 16D of NZ IAS 32, or instruments that are contracts for the future receipt or delivery of the entity's own equity instruments. 	NZ IAS 32.11 NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D

financial asset acquired through the enforcement of security	Any financial asset which is legally owned as the result of enforcing security. Where a NBDT assumes ownership of a financial asset in settlement of all or part of a debt, that asset is regarded as a financial asset acquired through the enforcement of security. A financial asset acquired through the enforcement of security must be owned outright, and accordingly the definition does not include “mortgagee in possession” assets.	NZ IFRS 7.E23 financial guarantee contract	A contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the original or modified terms of a debt instrument.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 9.A financial instrument	Any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.	NZ IAS 32.11 NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
financial liability	Any liability that is: (a) a contractual obligation: (i) to deliver cash or another financial asset to another entity; or (ii) to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially unfavourable to the entity; or (b) a contract that will or may be settled in the entity’s own equity instruments and is: (i) a non-derivative for which the entity is or may be obliged to deliver a variable number of the entity’s own equity instruments; or (ii) a derivative that will or may be settled other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the entity’s own equity instruments. For this purpose, rights, options or warrants to acquire a fixed number of the entity’s own equity instruments for a fixed amount of any currency are equity instruments if the entity offers the rights, options or warrants pro rata to all of its existing owners of the same class of its own non-derivative equity instruments. Also, for these purposes the entity’s own equity instruments do not include puttable financial instruments that are classified as equity instruments in accordance with paragraphs 16A and 16B of NZ IAS 32, instruments that impose on the entity an obligation to deliver to another party a pro rata share of the net assets of the entity only on liquidation and are classified as equity instruments in accordance with paragraphs 16C and 16D of NZ IAS 32, or instruments that are contracts for the future receipt or delivery of the entity’s own equity instruments. As an exception, an instrument that meets the definition of a financial liability is classified as an equity instrument if it has all the features and meets the conditions in paragraphs 16A and 16B or paragraphs 16C and 16D of NZ IAS 32.	NZ IAS 32.11 NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
financial liability at fair value through profit or loss	A financial liability that meets one of the following conditions. (a) it meets the definition of held for trading. (b) upon initial recognition it is designated by the entity as at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with paragraph 4.2.2 or 4.3.5. (c) it is designated either upon initial recognition or subsequently as at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with paragraph 6.7.1.	NZ IFRS 9.A

hedge effectiveness	The degree to which changes in the fair value or cash flows of the NZ IAS 39.9 hedged item that are attributable to a hedged risk are offset by changes in the fair value or cash flows of the hedging instrument (see NZ IAS 39 paragraphs AG105–AG113A). hedge ratio	The relationship between the quantity of the hedging instrument and NZ IFRS 9.A the quantity of the hedged item in terms of their relative weighting. hedged item	An asset, liability, firm commitment, highly probable forecast NZ IAS 39.9 transaction or net investment in a foreign operation that (a) exposes the entity to risk of changes in fair value or future cash flows and (b) is designated as being hedged (NZ IAS 39 paragraphs 78–84 and AG98–AG101 elaborate on the definition of hedged items).
hedging instrument	A designated derivative or (for a hedge of the risk of changes in NZ IAS 39.9 foreign currency exchange rates only) a designated non-derivative financial asset or non-derivative financial liability whose fair value or cash flows are expected to offset changes in the fair value or cash flows of a designated hedged item (NZ IAS 39 paragraphs 72–77 and AG94–AG97 elaborate on the definition of a hedging instrument).
held for trading	A financial asset or financial liability that: NZ IFRS 9.A <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term;(b) on initial recognition is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or(c) is a derivative (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument).

held for trading	A financial asset or financial liability that: (a) is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term; (b) on initial recognition is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or (c) is a derivative (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or designated and effective hedging instrument).	NZ IFRS 9.A
highest and best use	The use of a non-financial asset by market participants that would maximise the value of the asset or the group of assets and liabilities (eg a business) within which the asset would be used.	NZ IFRS 13.A highly probable	Significantly more likely than probable.	NZ IFRS 5.A
hire purchase contract	The definition of a lease includes contracts for the hire of an asset that contain a provision giving the hirer an option to acquire title to the asset upon the fulfilment of agreed conditions. These contracts are sometimes known as hire purchase contracts.	NZ IAS 17.6
hyperinflation	Loss of purchasing power of money at such a rate that comparison of amounts from transactions and other events that have occurred at different times, even within the same accounting period, is misleading. Hyperinflation is indicated by characteristics of the economic environment of a country which include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) the general population prefers to keep its wealth in non-monetary assets or in a relatively stable foreign currency. Amounts of local currency held are immediately invested to maintain purchasing power. (b) the general population regards monetary amounts not in terms of the local currency but in terms of a relatively stable foreign currency. Prices may be quoted in that currency. (c) sales and purchases on credit take place at prices that compensate for the expected loss of purchasing power during the credit period, even if the period is short. (d) interest rates, wages and prices are linked to a price index. (e) the cumulative inflation rate over three years is approaching, or exceeds, 100%.	NZ IAS 29.2–3
identifiable	An asset is identifiable if it either: (a) is separable, ie capable of being separated or divided from the entity and sold, transferred, licensed, rented or exchanged, either individually or together with a related contract, identifiable asset or liability, regardless of whether the entity intends to do so; or (b) arises from contractual or other legal rights, regardless of whether those rights are transferable or separable from the entity or from other rights and obligations.	NZ IFRS 3.A
impairment gain or loss	Gains or losses that are recognised in profit or loss in accordance with paragraph 5.58 and that arise from applying the impairment requirements in Section 5.5.	NZ IFRS 9.A
impairment loss	The amount by which the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount.	NZ IAS 16.6 (NZ IAS 36.6) NZ IAS 38.8
impracticable	Applying a requirement is impracticable when the entity cannot apply it after making every reasonable effort to do so.	NZ IAS 1.7 (NZ IAS 8.5) inception of a lease	The earlier of the date of the lease agreement and the date of commitment by the parties to the principal provisions of the lease.	NZ IAS 17.4

income	Increases in economic benefits during the accounting period in the NZ IFRS 15.A form of inflows or enhancements of assets or decreases of liabilities that result in an increase in equity, other than those relating to contributions from equity participants.
income approach	Valuation techniques that convert future amounts (eg cash flows or NZ IFRS 13.A income and expenses) to a single current (ie discounted) amount. The fair value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.
income from a structured entity	For the purpose of NZ IFRS 12, income from a structured entity NZ IFRS 12.A includes, but is not limited to, recurring and non-recurring fees, interest, dividends, gains or losses on the remeasurement or derecognition of interests in structured entities and gains or losses from the transfer of assets and liabilities to the structured entity.
incremental borrowing rate of interest (lessee's)	The rate of interest the lessee would have to pay on a similar lease or, NZ IAS 17.4 if that is not determinable, the rate that, at the inception of the lease, the lessee would incur to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to purchase the asset.
initial direct costs	Incremental costs that are directly attributable to negotiating and NZ IAS 17.4 arranging a lease, except for such costs incurred by manufacturer or dealer lessors.
inputs	The assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the NZ IFRS 13.A asset or liability, including assumptions about risk, such as the following: (a) the risk inherent in a particular valuation technique used to measure fair value (such as a pricing model); and (b) the risk inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. Inputs may be observable or unobservable.
inputs	The resources used to produce the goods and services which are the FRS-44.A outputs of the entity.
insurance asset	An insurer's net contractual rights under an insurance contract.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
insurance contract	A contract under which one party (the insurer) accepts significant NZ IFRS 4.A insurance risk from another party (the policyholder) by agreeing to NZ IFRS 4.C compensate the policyholder if a specified uncertain future event (the NZ IFRS 4.D insured event) adversely affects the policyholder. (See NZ IFRS 4 Appendix B for guidance on this definition.)
insurance liability	An insurer's net contractual obligations under an insurance contract.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
insurance risk	Risk, other than financial risk, transferred from the holder of a NZ IFRS 4.A contract to the issuer.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
insured event	An uncertain future event that is covered by an insurance contract and NZ IFRS 4.A creates insurance risk.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
insurer	The party that has an obligation under an insurance contract to NZ IFRS 4.A compensate a policyholder if an insured event occurs.	NZ IFRS 4.A NZ IFRS 4.C NZ IFRS 4.D
intangible asset	An identifiable non-monetary asset without physical substance.	NZ IAS 38.8 NZ IFRS 3.A

interest in another entity	For the purpose of NZ IFRS 12, an interest in another entity refers to contractual and non-contractual involvement that exposes an entity to variability of returns from the performance of the other entity. An interest in another entity can be evidenced by, but is not limited to, the holding of equity or debt instruments as well as other forms of involvement such as the provision of funding, liquidity support, credit enhancement and guarantees. It includes the means by which an entity has control or joint control of, or significant influence over, another entity. An entity does not necessarily have an interest in another entity solely because of a typical customer supplier relationship. Paragraphs B7–B9 provide further information about interests in other entities. Paragraphs B55–B57 of NZ IFRS 10 explain variability of returns.	NZ IFRS 12.A
interest rate implicit in the lease	The discount rate that, at the inception of the lease, causes the aggregate present value of (a) the minimum lease payments and (b) the unguaranteed residual value to be equal to the sum of (i) the fair value of the leased asset and (ii) any initial direct costs of the lessor.	NZ IAS 17.4
interest rate risk	The risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.	NZ IFRS 7.A
interim financial report	A financial report containing either a complete set of financial statements (as described in NZ IAS 1) or a set of condensed financial statements (as described in NZ IAS 34) for an interim period.	NZ IAS 34.4
interim period	A financial reporting period shorter than a full financial year.	NZ IAS 34.4
International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs)	Standards and Interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. They comprise: (a) International Financial Reporting Standards; (b) International Accounting Standards; (c) IFRIC Interpretations; and (d) SIC Interpretations.	NZ IAS 1.7 NZ IAS 8.5 NZ IFRS 1.A
intrinsic value	The difference between the fair value of the shares to which the counterparty has the (conditional or unconditional) right to subscribe or which it has the right to receive, and the price (if any) the counterparty is (or will be) required to pay for those shares. For example, a share option with an exercise price of CU15, ³ on a share with a fair value of CU20, has an intrinsic value of CU5.	NZ IFRS 2.A
inventories	Assets: (a) held for sale in the ordinary course of business; (b) in the process of production for such sale; or (c) in the form of materials or supplies to be consumed in the production process or in the rendering of services. Inventories encompass goods purchased and held for resale including, for example, merchandise purchased by a retailer and held for resale, or land and other property held for resale. Inventories also encompass finished goods produced, or work in progress being produced, by the entity and include materials and supplies awaiting use in the production process. Costs incurred to fulfil a contract with a customer that do not give rise to inventories (or assets within the scope of another Standard) are accounted for in accordance with NZ IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers .	NZ IAS 2.6 NZ IAS 2.8
investing activities	The acquisition and disposal of long-term assets and other investments not included in cash equivalents.	NZ IAS 7.6
investment-linked	Where the benefit amount under a life insurance contract or life investment contract is directly linked to the market value of the investments held in the particular investment-linked fund.	NZ IFRS 4.C

³ Monetary items are denominated in 'currency units (CU)'.

Where concessionary terms and conditions on an asset have been formally granted to a customer because of the customer's financial difficulties, and the return on the asset following restructuring is such that a loss is not expected to be incurred, then the asset is to be regarded as a restructured asset. Concessionary terms and conditions granted include formal forgiveness of some principal and interest, or other types of cash flows; a deferral or extension of interest or principal payments; a reduction of interest; and an extension of maturity date. However, a key feature of these assets is that following restructuring, the return under the revised terms and conditions is expected to be equal to, or greater than, the institution's average cost of funds, or that a loss is not otherwise expected to be incurred – if not, the facility must be classified as an other individually impaired asset. If an asset is restructured so that it is expected that the customer will perform on terms which are similar to those for new facilities of similar risk, and no provisions are currently held against the exposure, then no loss is expected to be incurred and accordingly the exposure may be regarded as fully performing.
