

Glossary

This glossary is extracted from New Zealand equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards. This document does not include consequential amendments resulting from early adoption of NZ IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements. References are by Standard and paragraph number or Standard and appendix letter.

The glossary also includes extracts from the New Zealand Equivalent to the IASB Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting (2018 NZ Conceptual Framework). References to the frameworks are preceded by 2018 CF.

References set out in (brackets) indicate minor variations in wording.

compensation	Includes all employee benefits (as defined in NZ IAS 19) including employee benefits to which NZ IFRS 2 applies. Employee benefits are all forms of consideration paid, payable or provided by the entity, or on behalf of the entity, in exchange for services rendered to the entity. It also includes such consideration paid on behalf of a parent of the entity in respect of the entity. Compensation includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) short-term employee benefits, such as wages, salaries and social security contributions, paid annual leave and paid sick leave, profit-sharing and bonuses (if payable within twelve months of the end of the period) and non-monetary benefits (such as medical care, housing, cars and free or subsidised goods or services) for current employees;</li> <li>(b) post-employment benefits such as pensions, other retirement benefits, post-employment life insurance and post-employment medical care;</li> <li>(c) other long-term employee benefits, including long-service leave or sabbatical leave, jubilee or other long-service benefits, long-term disability benefits and, if they are not payable wholly within twelve months after the end of the period, profit-sharing, bonuses and deferred compensation;</li> <li>(d) termination benefits; and</li> <li>(e) share-based payment.</li> </ul>	NZ IAS 24.9
component of an entity	Operations and cash flows that can be clearly distinguished, operationally and for financial reporting purposes, from the rest of the entity.	NZ IFRS 5.A

GLOSSARY

consolidated financial statements	The financial statements of a group in which assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the parent and its subsidiaries are presented as those of a single economic entity.	NZ IAS 27.4 NZ IAS 28.3 NZ IFRS 10.A
consolidated financial statements	Financial statements of a reporting entity that comprises both the parent and its subsidiaries.	2018 CF.3.11
constructive obligation	An obligation that derives from an entity's actions where: (a) by an established pattern of past practice, published policies or a sufficiently specific current statement, the entity has indicated to other parties that it will accept certain responsibilities; and (b) as a result, the entity has created a valid expectation on the part of those other parties that it will discharge those responsibilities.	NZ IAS 37.10
contingent asset	A possible asset that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity.	NZ IAS 37.10
contingent consideration	Usually, an obligation of the acquirer to transfer additional assets or equity interests to the former owners of an acquiree as part of the exchange for control of the acquiree if specified future events occur or conditions are met. However, contingent consideration also may give the acquirer the right to the return of previously transferred consideration if specified conditions are met.	NZ IFRS 3.A
contingent liability	Is: (a) a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity; or (b) a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognised because: (i) it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; or (ii) the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.	NZ IAS 37.10
contingent share agreement	An agreement to issue shares that is dependent on the satisfaction of specified conditions.	NZ IAS 33.5
contingently issuable ordinary shares	Ordinary shares issuable for little or no cash or other consideration upon the satisfaction of specified conditions in a contingent share agreement.	NZ IAS 33.5
contract	An agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations.	NZ IFRS 15.A NZ IFRS 16.A
contract asset	An entity's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the entity has transferred to a customer when that right is conditioned on something other than the passage of time (for example, the entity's future performance).	NZ IFRS 15.A (NZ IFRS 9.A)
contract liability	An entity's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the entity has received consideration (or the amount is due) from the customer.	NZ IFRS 15.A
contractual service margin	A component of the carrying amount of the asset or liability for a group of insurance contracts representing the unearned profit the entity will recognise as it provides insurance contract services under the insurance contracts in the group.	NZ IFRS 17.A
control of an economic resource	The present ability to direct the use of the economic resource and obtain the economic benefits that may flow from it.	2018 CF.4.20

GLOSSARY

control of an investee	An investor controls an investee when the investor is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee.	NZ IFRS 10.A
corporate assets	Assets other than goodwill that contribute to the future cash flows of both the cash-generating unit under review and other cash-generating units.	NZ IAS 36.6
cost	The amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of other consideration given to acquire an asset at the time of its acquisition or construction, or, when applicable, the amount attributed to that asset when initially recognised in accordance with the specific requirements of other NZ IFRSs, eg NZ IFRS 2 Share-based Payment .	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 38.8 NZ IAS 40.5
cost approach	A valuation technique that reflects the amount that would be required currently to replace the service capacity of an asset (often referred to as current replacement cost).	NZ IFRS 13.A
costs of disposal	Incremental costs directly attributable to the disposal of an asset, excluding finance costs and income tax expense.	NZ IAS 36.6
costs to sell	The incremental costs directly attributable to the disposal of an asset (or disposal group), excluding finance costs and income tax expense.	NZ IFRS 5.A (NZ IAS 41.5)
coverage period	The period during which the entity provides insurance contract services. This period includes the insurance contract services that relate to all premiums within the boundary of the insurance contract.	NZ IFRS 17.A
credit-adjusted effective interest rate	The rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the amortised cost of a financial asset that is a purchased or originated credit-impaired financial asset. When calculating the credit-adjusted effective interest rate, an entity shall estimate the expected cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial asset (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) and expected credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate (see paragraphs B5.4.1–B5.4.3), transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar financial instruments can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the cash flows or the remaining life of a financial instrument (or group of financial instruments), the entity shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual term of the financial instrument (or group of financial instruments).	NZ IFRS 9.A

credit-impaired financial asset	A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired include observable data about the following events: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;</li> <li>(b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;</li> <li>(c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;</li> <li>(d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;</li> <li>(e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties; or</li> <li>(f) the purchase or origination of a financial asset at a deep discount that reflects the incurred credit losses.</li> </ul> It may not be possible to identify a single discrete event—instead, the combined effect of several events may have caused financial assets to become credit-impaired.	NZ IFRS 9.A
credit exposures to an individual counterparty or a group of closely related counterparties	The maximum loss amount that could be incurred under all contracts with that counterparty or group of closely related counterparties in the event of those counterparties failing to discharge their obligations.	NZ IFRS 7.E23
credit loss	The difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (ie all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate (or credit-adjusted effective interest rate for purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets). An entity shall estimate cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) through the expected life of that financial instrument. The cash flows that are considered shall include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms. There is a presumption that the expected life of a financial instrument can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the expected life of a financial instrument, the entity shall use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.	NZ IFRS 9.A
credit risk	The risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.	NZ IFRS 7.A
credit risk rating grades	Rating of credit risk based on the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument.	NZ IFRS 7.A
currency risk	The risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.	NZ IFRS 7.A
current asset	An entity shall classify an asset as current when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) it expects to realise the asset, or intends to sell or consume it in its normal operating cycle;</li> <li>(b) it holds the asset primarily for the purpose of trading;</li> <li>(c) it expects to realise the asset within twelve months after the reporting period; or</li> <li>(d) the asset is cash or a cash equivalent (as defined in NZ IAS 7) unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.</li> </ul> An entity shall classify all other assets as non-current.	NZ IAS 1.66 (NZ IFRS 5.A)

current service cost	The increase in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from employee service in the current period.	NZ IAS 19.8
current tax	The amount of income taxes payable (recoverable) in respect of the taxable profit (tax loss) for a period.	NZ IAS 12.5
customer	A party that has contracted with an entity to obtain goods or services that are an output of the entity's ordinary activities in exchange for consideration.	NZ IFRS 15.A
date of transition to NZ IFRS	The beginning of the earliest period for which an entity presents full comparative information under NZ IFRS in its first NZ IFRS financial statements.	NZ IFRS 1.A
decision maker	An entity with decision-making rights that is either a principal or an agent for other parties.	NZ IFRS 10.A
deductible temporary differences	Temporary differences between the carrying amount of an asset or liability in the statement of financial position and its tax base that will result in amounts that are deductible in determining taxable profit (tax loss) of future periods when the carrying amount of the asset or liability is recovered or settled.	NZ IAS 12.5
deemed cost	An amount used as a surrogate for cost or depreciated cost at a given date. Subsequent depreciation or amortisation assumes that the entity had initially recognised the asset or liability at the given date and that its cost was equal to the deemed cost.	NZ IFRS 1.A
deferred tax assets	The amounts of income taxes recoverable in future periods in respect of: (a) deductible temporary differences; (b) the carryforward of unused tax losses; and (c) the carryforward of unused tax credits.	NZ IAS 12.5
deferred tax liabilities	The amounts of income taxes payable in future periods in respect of taxable temporary differences.	NZ IAS 12.5
deficit or surplus (of defined benefit liability (asset))	The deficit or surplus is: (a) the present value of the defined benefit obligation less (b) the fair value of plan assets (if any).	NZ IAS 19.8
defined benefit plans	Post-employment benefit plans other than defined contribution plans.	NZ IAS 19.8
defined benefit plans	Retirement benefit plans under which amounts to be paid as retirement benefits are determined by reference to a formula usually based on employees' earnings and/or years of service.	NZ IAS 26.8
defined contribution plans	Post-employment benefit plans under which an entity pays fixed contributions into a separate entity (a fund) and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods.	NZ IAS 19.8
defined contribution plans	Retirement benefit plans under which amounts to be paid as retirement benefits are determined by contributions to a fund together with investment earnings thereon.	NZ IAS 26.8
depreciable amount	The cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost (in the financial statements), less its residual value.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 36.6 NZ IAS 38.8
depreciation (amortisation)<sup>2</sup>	The systematic allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over its useful life.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 36.6
derecognition	The removal of a previously recognised financial asset or financial liability from an entity's statement of financial position.	NZ IFRS 9.A

<sup>2</sup> In the case of an intangible asset, the term 'amortisation' is generally used instead of 'depreciation'. The two terms have the same meaning.

GLOSSARY

derecognition	The removal of all or part of a recognised asset or liability from an entity's statement of financial position.	2018 CF.5.26
derivative	A financial instrument or other contract within the scope of NZ IFRS 9 (see paragraph 2.1 of NZ IFRS 9) with all three of the following characteristics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) its value changes in response to the change in a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other variable, provided in the case of a non-financial variable that the variable is not specific to a party to the contract (sometimes called the 'underlying').</li> <li>(b) it requires no initial net investment or an initial net investment that is smaller than would be required for other types of contracts that would be expected to have a similar response to changes in market factors.</li> <li>(c) it is settled at a future date.</li> </ul>	NZ IFRS 9.A
development	The application of research findings or other knowledge to a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved materials, devices, products, processes, systems or services before the start of commercial production or use.	NZ IAS 38.8
dilution	A reduction in earnings per share or an increase in loss per share resulting from the assumption that convertible instruments are converted, that options or warrants are exercised, or that ordinary shares are issued upon the satisfaction of specified conditions.	NZ IAS 33.5
discontinued operation	A component of an entity that either has been disposed of or is classified as held for sale and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) represents a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations,</li> <li>(b) is part of a single co-ordinated plan to dispose of a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations or</li> <li>(c) is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale.</li> </ul>	NZ IFRS 5.A
disposal group	A group of assets to be disposed of, by sale or otherwise, together as a group in a single transaction, and liabilities directly associated with those assets that will be transferred in the transaction. The group includes goodwill acquired in a business combination if the group is a cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs 80–87 of NZ IAS 36 or if it is an operation within such a cash-generating unit.	NZ IFRS 5.A
dividends	Distributions of profits to holders of equity instruments in proportion to their holdings of a particular class of capital.	NZ IFRS 9.A
economic life	Either the period over which an asset is expected to be economically usable by one or more users or the number of production or similar units expected to be obtained from an asset by one or more users.	NZ IFRS 16.A
economic resource	A right that has the potential to produce economic benefits.	2018 CF.4.4
effective date of the modification	The date when both parties agree to a lease modification.	NZ IFRS 16.A
effective interest method	The method that is used in the calculation of the amortised cost of a financial asset or a financial liability and in the allocation and recognition of the interest revenue or interest expense in profit or loss over the relevant period.	NZ IFRS 9.A

GLOSSARY

effective interest rate	The rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, an entity shall estimate the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but shall not consider the expected credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate (see paragraphs B5.4.1–B5.4.3), transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar financial instruments can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to reliably estimate the cash flows or the expected life of a financial instrument (or group of financial instruments), the entity shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual term of the financial instrument (or group of financial instruments).	NZ IFRS 9.A
employee benefits	All forms of consideration given by an entity in exchange for service rendered by employees or for the termination of employment.	NZ IAS 19.8
employees and others providing similar services	Individuals who render personal services to the entity and either (a) the individuals are regarded as employees for legal or tax purposes, (b) the individuals work for the entity under its direction in the same way as individuals who are regarded as employees for legal or tax purposes, or (c) the services rendered are similar to those rendered by employees. For example, the term encompasses all management personnel, ie those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the entity, including non-executive directors.	NZ IFRS 2.A
enhancing qualitative characteristic	A qualitative characteristic that makes useful information more useful. The enhancing qualitative characteristics are comparability, verifiability, timeliness and understandability.	2018 CF.2.4, 2018 CF.2.23
entity-specific value	The present value of the cash flows an entity expects to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life or expects to incur when settling a liability.	NZ IAS 16.6 NZ IAS 38.8
entry price	The price paid to acquire an asset or received to assume a liability in an exchange transaction.	NZ IFRS 13.A
equity	The residual interest in the assets of the entity after deducting all its liabilities.	2018 CF.4.63
equity claim	A claim on the residual interest in the assets of the entity after deducting all its liabilities.	2018 CF.4.64
equity instrument	A contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities.	NZ IAS 32.11 NZ IFRS 2.A
equity instrument granted	The right (conditional or unconditional) to an equity instrument of the entity conferred by the entity on another party, under a share-based payment arrangement.	NZ IFRS 2.A
